Eclipses for 1896.

In the year 1896 there will be four eclipses — two of the sun and two of the moon, as follows:

I. An annular eclipse of the sun, February 13. Invisible to North America. Visible, generally as a partial eclipse, to the south-eastern coast of South America, Southern Africa, and the South Atlantic and Antarctic Oceans. The line of annulus passing through the Antarctic Ocean.

II. A partial eclipse of the moon, February 23. Invisible to North America. Visible entire to Europe, Asia and Africa; and in part to Australia, the eastern extremity of South America, and the Atlantic Ocean.

III. A total eclipse of the sun, August 9. Invisible to all of North America except Alaska. Visible to the Arctic Regions, Eastern Europe, the northern half of Asia, and the western portion of the North Pacific Ocean. The line of totality running through Nova Zembla and Yesso, Japan.

IV. A partial eclipse of the moon, August 22, 23. Visible entire to North and South America; and in part to the western extremities of Europe and Africa, to eastern Australia, and the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans.

This fourth eclipse will occur as follows at the different localities named :

	Moon enters Penumbra.		Moon enters Shadow.		Middle of eclipse.		Moon leaves Shadow.		Moon leaves Penumbra.

Weather Signal Whistles.

The warning signal, to attract attention, is a long blast of from fifteen to twenty seconds duration. After this warning signal has been sounded, long blasts (of from four to six seconds duration) refer to weather, and short blasts (of from one to three seconds duration) refer to temperature; Those for weather to be sounded first. One long blast indicates fair weather; two long blasts indicate rain or snow; Three long blasts indicate local rains; one short blast indicates lower temperature; two short blasts indicate higher temperature; three short blasts indicate cold wave. Interpretation of combination blasts: One long, alone, fair weather, stationary temperature; two long, alone, rain or snow, stationary temperature; one long and short, fair weather, lower temperature; two long and two short, rain or snow, higher temperature; one long and three short, fair weather, cold wave; three long and two short, local rain, higher temperature.

Explanation of the Weather Chart.

The Weather Map presents an outline map of the United States and Canada, showing the stations where weather observations are taken daily at 8 A. M. and 3 P. M., seventy-fifth meridian time, and telegraphed to Washington and other cities. These observations consist of readings of the barometer, thermometer (dry and wet), direction and velocity of wind, state of sky (whether cloudy or otherwise), and amount of rain or snow. Solid lines, called isobars, are drawn through points having the same pressure; a separate line being drawn for each difference of one-tenth of an inch in the height of the barometer. Dotted lines, called isotherms, connecting places having the same temperature, are drawn for each ten degrees of the thermometer. Heavy dotted lines, inclosing areas where a great change in temperature has occurred within the last twenty-four hours, are sometimes added. The direction of the wind is indicated by an arrow flying with the wind, or opposite to the ordinary vane, and has a square end when storm signals are displayed. Shaded areas show where rain or snow has been falling since the last observation.

The general movement of storms in the United States is from west to east, similar to a series of atmospheric waves of which the crests are designated on the map "Highs," and the troughs or depressions "Lows." These alternating Highs and Lows have an average easterly movement of about 600 miles per day.

High winds, with rain, or snow if cold enough, usually precede the low area, often extending to a distance of 600 miles to the eastward of the center of the storm. In advance of the Low center the winds are generally southerly, and consequently bring high temperature. When the center passes to the east of a place the wind at once shifts to the west or northwest, bringing lower temperature. The temperature on a given parallel west of the Low may be reasonably looked for on the same parallel to the east when the Low has passed, and frost will occur along the north of an isotherm of about 40°, if the night is clear and there be but little wind. Following the Low usually comes an area of High, bringing sunshiny weather, which in its turn is followed by another Low.

By hearing in mind a few general rules as to the direction and rate of movement of the Low and High, with the blowing of the wind from the High toward the Low, coming weather changes may be foreseen by a glance at the map. The centers of Low do not, as a rule, move across isotherms, but follow their general direction. Areas of low pressure frequently move to the south of east from the Rocky Mountains to the Mississippi and then change direction to the north of east over the eastern half of the country. Storms in the Gulf of Mexico occasionally move to the west or north of west, but after reaching the coast, they generally change direction and move to the northeastward. High areas move to the southeast and are attended by fair and cold weather. A cold wave is always accompanied by a High.

The cloud and rain area in front of a Low is generally about the size of the latter and oval, with the west side touching the center or the Low in advance of which it progresses.

When the isotherms run nearly east and west no decided change in temperature will occur. If the isotherms directly west of a place incline from northwest to southeast, it will be warmer; if from northeast to southwest, it will be colder. Southerly winds prevail west of a nearly north and south line cutting the middle of a High, also east of a like line cutting the middle of a Low. Northerly winds occur west of a nearly north and south line passing through the middle of a Low and also east of a similar one through the middle of a High.

An absence of decided waves of High or troughs of Low pressure indicates a continuance of existing weather which will last till later maps show a change, usually first appearing in the west.

The sensible temperature published on the map is the reading of the wet thermometer (a thermometer the bulb of which is always kept moistened) and represents the temperature which is felt at the surface of the body, especially where the skin is exposed, as on the face and hands. When the air is dry, this temperature, owing to the rapid evaporation of moisture, is considerably lower than the actual temperature of the air.

Key to the Storm Chart. (See next page.)

The storms which visit the United States follow a series of lanes, related to each other by well-defined laws.

The positions of these tracks have been made in the Forecasts Division of the Weather Bureau, on a series of maps that have been made during the past twenty years.

On the foregoing storm chart there are two sets of lines running west and east; one set over the north-western boundary, the lake region and the St. Lawrence valley; the other set over the middle Rocky Mountain districts and the Gulf States.

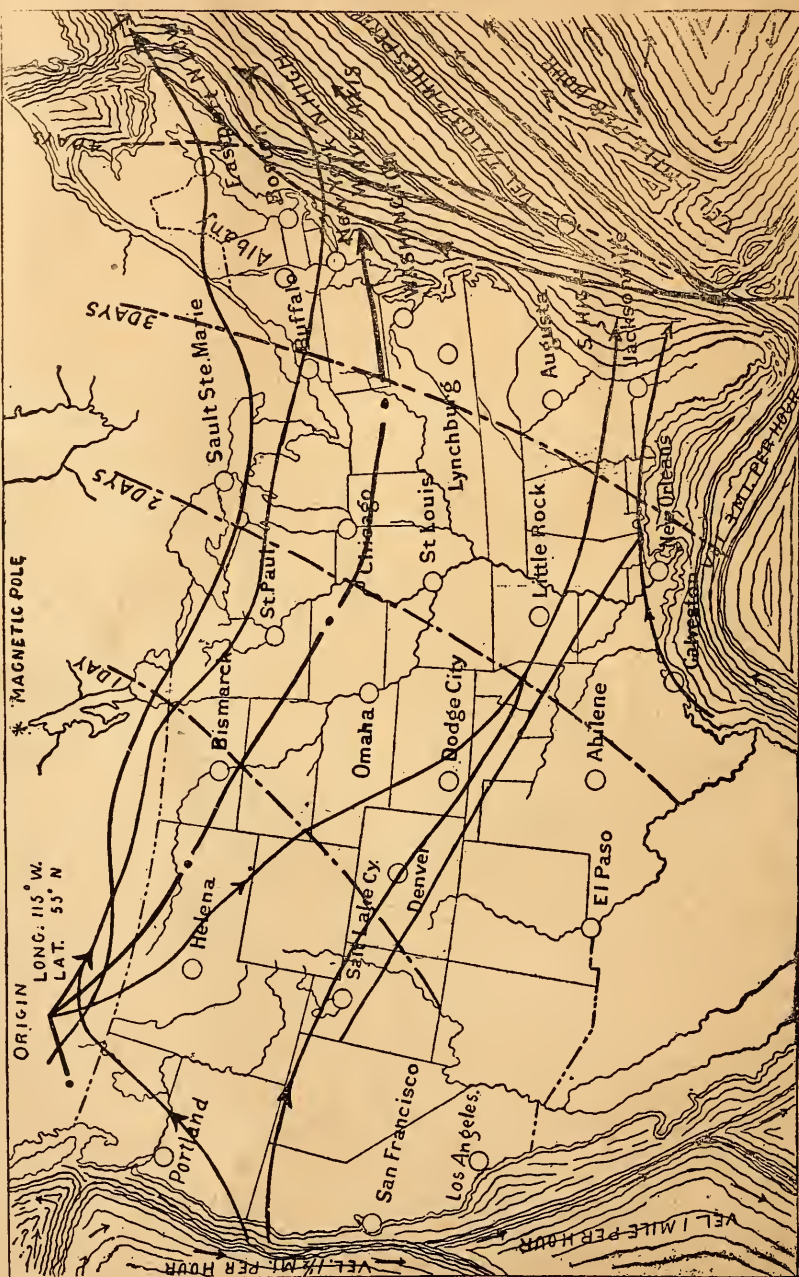

Each of these is double; one for the "Highs" or fair weather areas, and one for the "Lows" or storm areas.

There are lines crossing from the main tracks to join them together, showing how storms pass from one to the other.

Forecasting is an art which calls for a decision from the weather conditions as presented on the daily weather map, as to which of the paths will be pursued by a particular storm area, and the probable rate of speed which will take place.

Four daily sections are indicated. They represent the average daily movement in the history of American storms.

The Tide at New York.

Time and height of high and low water at Governor's Island, and a key to determine the tide at Hudson River points.

NOTE.—The following table has been prepared by the United States Weather Bureau specially for the JOURNAL ALMANAC, no other being in existence.

Explanation of Tide Tables.

The tables give the time and height of high and low water for each day of the year for Governor's Island, New York Harbor. The first set of figures are the respective times of high and low water; the second set are the heights of high and low water, referred to mean low water as the plane of reference.

In regard to the time,—“oh” is midnight, “12h” is noon. All hours less than 12 are in the morning; all greater are in the afternoon, and when diminished by 12 give the usual reckoning. For example,—17h. 19m. is 5h. 19m. P. M. The following example will illustrate the manner of obtaining the times of high and low water at Albany, N. Y.:

Time of first high water at Albany, February 1, 1896.	9.17
Time of first high water at Governor's Island, February 1, 1896.	9.17
High water difference for Albany	19.35

First high water at Albany	6.52 P. M.

THE MORA CLAIM.

The Spanish Cabinet on July 31, 1895, resolved to pay the long-standing claim of Antonio Maximo Mora to the United States, amounting to $1,500,000. The payment was made on September 14, 1895. It appears that during an insurrection in Cuba, a valuable sugar plantation, owned by Mora, who claimed to be an American citizen, was confiscated by the Spanish officials. Mora appealed to the authorities at Washington for redress, and as long ago as 1886, the Spanish government agreed to pay $1,500,000 in settlement. The claim was pressed by every Administration of the United States after that, but the opposition in the Spanish Cortes, influenced by public opinion in Spain, prevented the payment.

NEW YORK STATE CONVENTIONS AND PLATFORMS

Republican.

The Republican State Convention met at Saratoga September 17, 1895. Congressman James S. Sherman, of Utica, was made temporary chairman, and State Senator Clarence Lexow, of Nyack, permanent chairman.

The following ticket was re-nominated: John Palmer, Albany, Secretary of State; James A. Roberts, Buffalo, Comptroller; Addison B. Colvin, Glens Falls, Treasurer; Theodore E. Hancock, Syracuse, Attorney-General; Calvin W. Adams, Utica, Engineer and Surveyor; Celora E. Martin, of Binghamton, was named for Associate Judge of the Court of Appeals.

The following platform was adopted:

The Republican party of New York, by its delegates in convention assembled, makes the following declaration of its principles:

We reaffirm our adherence to the American policy of protection, and we demand such legislation as will afford an adequate income for the maintenance of the government, while giving encouragement to American capital and remunerative wages to American labor.

We denounce the Wilson tariff with its iniquitous income tax attachment (happily declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States), as the first step accomplished in the campaign for the annihilation of American industries begun by Grover Cleveland in December, 1887. This measure is neither a tariff for protection, nor a tariff for revenue, but a tariff for deficit, failing by scores of millions a year to raise the amount of revenue necessary for the normal expenses of our national government. We denounce the Democratic administration for its gross mismanagement of the finances of the nation. It already has added more than $165,000,000 to the national debt and the burdens of the people and there is every evidence that this increase is to be continued. We denounce the Democratic administration for its false and misleading statements of the public expenditures and for its failure to promptly pay the nation's honest debts that it may be able to present a delusive statement of the treasury's actual condition.

We welcome the dawn of returning prosperity following the Republican victories of 1894—those victories giving assurance that the Democratic party has been rendered powerless to work further destruction to American industries, and that the duty of repairing Democratic inroads upon them will be prosecuted with untiring vigor. And we denounce the attempts of the Democratic administration newspaper organs to mislead and begot the public in regard to the real character and extent of recent restoration of wages. With a complete return of the Republican party to power, and the enactment of such remedial legislation as the conditions plainly require, we confidently look for a renewal of the prosperity that marked the quarter century of its government of the country.

In behalf of American citizens in other countries, who are entitled to the most watchful and unyielding defense and protection in all emergencies, we denounce the infamous policy of the federal administration, which has made the Stars and Stripes the emblem of supine neglect and wretched incapacity.

In the broader field of our relations with foreign powers where American doctrine should have been the supreme guide and inspiration, the administration, by yielding established rights, truckling to foreign influence and the wholesale sacrifice of American prestige and national dignity, has furnished an unmatched spectacle of federal disgrace and imbecility.

We believe that the nation's honor as well as the material interests of our citizens demand the maintenance of a national currency, every dollar of which, whether in gold, silver or paper notes, shall be of equal value and equal debt-paying or purchasing power, and we declare our unalterable opposition to the free and unlimited coinage of silver. Any inflation of the currency of the country by degrading the standard of value to the silver basis is distinctly repudiated.

We denounce the Democratic party for the robbery of millions of dollars from the hard-working farmers of this State through free wool and the reduction of the tariff upon agricultural products by the Wilson tariff bill, and we demand adequate protection for our farm products.

Last fall, for the first time in twelve years, the people of the State entrusted the Republican party with the control of both the executive and legislative branches of their government. The party was charged with the duty of righting great wrongs which had been embodied in law by a discredited Democratic administration of State affairs. That duty has been discharged with care and fidelity to the people's interests. The reform measures, which the people of the city of New York asked for and which were indispensable to the complete overthrow of the corrupt political machine that had so long plundered and betrayed the great metropolis of the State, were, with a single exception, enacted into law, in the face of a united Democratic opposition.

The revised Constitution, which went into effect last January, imposed many important duties upon the Legislature, which were fully met and faithfully discharged. Prominent among them was the constitutional requirement of uniform charters for cities of the various classes. Among the acts of the Legislature designed for the amelioration of the condition of the working people of the city of New York, the law providing for the inspection and improvement of tenement quarters is entitled to especial commendation.

The most rigid care and economy were exercised by the Republican Legislature of the State in granting appropriations from the people's money. The tax rate was kept down to the lowest figures possible under the shrinkage of receipts from indirect taxation—due to the general business depression which was brought about by Democratic mismanagement in the nation. The necessity of meeting expenditures which were rendered obligatory by the new Constitution and the extension of the act for State care of the pauper insane to the counties of New York and Kings, made imperative an increase in the tax rate the present year.

We congratulate the people of the State on the success of the long struggle which the Republican party has waged to secure honest electoral reform. The blanket ballot promises relief to voters from the cumbersome and complex system of voting which prevailed last year. Every advance toward honest electoral reform has been made, step by step, against the determined opposition of the Democracy of the State.

The interests of labor have been carefully protected by the Republican party, in State, as well as national affairs; and we urge the adoption and extension of the principle of arbitration in determining disputes between employer and employee.

The Constitutional Convention recognized the truth that the canals of the State are the property of the people and the appropriate object of their solicitous care. The amendment embodying this principle was adopted by an emphatic majority. The Legislature has provided for the submission of the question of canal improvement in concrete form, to a popular vote. The people can be safely entrusted to deal wisely with this matter.

We heartily endorse the wise and excellent administration of Governor Levi P. Morton. He has been mindful of the desires of the people and he has been always in sympathy with the best impulses of the time. The overwhelming expression of confidence given him by the people at the polls last November shows how warmly he appeals to the popular heart. A public career of unquestioned distinction, his clear and flawless record and his acknowledged ability warrant the highest honor in the nation, and we therefore present Levi P. Morton as the candidate of the Republicans of the Empire State for the presidency of the United States, and we pledge him the loyal and unstinted support of New York in the coming Republican national convention.

We favor the maintenance of the Sunday laws in the interests of labor and morality.

Democratic.

The Democratic State Convention met at Syracuse, September 24, 1895. Ex-Congressman Perry Belmont, of New York, was made temporary chairman and Ex-Governor Roswell P. Flower, of Watertown, permanent chairman.

The following ticket was nominated: Horatio C. King, Brooklyn, Secretary of State; John B. Judson, Gloversville, Comptroller; De Witt C. Dow, Cobleskill, Treasurer; Norton Chase, Albany, Attorney-General; Russell R. Stuart, Syracuse, Engineer and Surveyor; John D. Teller, Auburn, Associate Judge of the Court of Appeals. This ticket was endorsed by the Democratic Reform party.

The following platform was adopted:

The Democratic party of New York, in convention assembled, makes the following declaration of its principles and policy:

1. Home rule—the first essential condition of good municipal government; local jurisdiction and control over purely local affairs; no legislative meddling.
 2. Economy in public expense—no public money for private purposes or political jobs; strict audit of official expenditures; a low tax rate.
 3. Honesty in public office—no tainted legislators; no corrupt traffic in legislation; clean men and free agents; no hypocrites.
 4. Equal and honest enforcement of all the laws; a proper observance of a day of rest and an orderly Sunday; modification or repeal of laws unsupported by public opinion; no unjust sumptuary laws; no blue laws; recognition of the fundamental American principle of freedom of conscience; home rule in excise as in other matters within reasonable limitations established to protect the interests of temperance and morality, and an amendment of the excise and other laws by the Legislature of the State which shall permit each municipality, expressing its sentiments by a popular vote of a majority of its citizens, to determine within such proper legislative restrictions as will be in the interests of the entire State, what may be required by its necessities and conditions.
 5. The attempts of prominent Republican politicians in the large cities of the State in repudiating their own platform are renewed evidence of their hypocrisy and dishonesty on the excise question, and of their desire to deceive the people.
 6. Equal taxation; no unjust discrimination; no favored interests; no partial legislation.
 7. Individual liberty: the right of all citizens to equal opportunities before the law; equal and exact justice to all men.
 8. Honest elections; compulsory official accounting of expenditures by political committees as well as candidates; personal registration of voters as a safeguard against fraud.
 9. Practical and honest reform in the civil service.
 10. Intelligent and liberal promotion of agriculture.
 11. Improved highways of travel throughout the State in the interest of our citizens and particularly of the farmers and bicycle riders.
 12. Beneficial and needed legislation in the interests of labor.
 13. Federal taxation for revenue only; no government partnership with protected monopolies; no meddling with the present reform tariff to the injury and unsettling of business and industries.
 14. Sound money; gold and silver the only legal tender; no currency inconvertible with coin; gradual retirement and extinction of the greenback currency; no free and unlimited coinage of silver.
 15. Strict construction of the federal Constitution; rigid maintenance of the reserved rights of the States; no force bills.
 16. No entangling alliances with foreign nations; the vigorous enforcement of the Monroe doctrine; no jingoism.
- We reaffirm the Democratic national platform of 1892, and congratulate the people that Democratic legislation and Democratic administration have successfully brought the country out of the disastrous financial and industrial condition into which it was plunged by the ill-conceived acts of the Republican party.

We endorse the administration of President Cleveland.

We invite the attention of electors to the humiliating record made by the Republican party in its recent restoration to power in this State. In full control of all branches of the State government, equipped with complete power to accomplish reforms, it has prodigally wasted the people's money and forfeited public confidence by its defiance of the popular will and its scandalous disregard of the public welfare. As a result of their less than one year of power, State taxation has been increased over $4,500,000; the tax rate has been raised from 2.18 to 3.24; many new and expensive State committees have been created, hundreds of thousands of dollars have been fruitlessly and unnecessarily expended by legislative committees in searching through the State departments for Democratic iniquities which were not found because they did not exist; the principle of home rule has been deliberately and continually violated; the civil service reform laws have been flagrantly disregarded, especially in reference to the deserving veterans; and the entire legislative record has been one of scandal, incompetence and extravagance.

Upon such a record of faithlessness to public trust the Republican party deserves the condemnation of the people at the polls and the Democratic party invites the co-operation of all citizens in restoring good government to the Empire State.

Prohibition.

The Prohibition Party's State Convention was held at Saratoga, September 4, 1895. The following candidates were nominated: Secretary of State, W. W. Smith, Poughkeepsie; Comptroller, Fred B. Diefendorf, Watertown; Treasurer, William R. Rathbun, Elmira; Attorney-General, W. Martin Jones, State Engineer and Surveyor, Walter M. Miles, Mount Vernon; Justice of the Court of Appeals, Edwin C. English, Corning.

The following platform was adopted: "The Prohibition Party of the State of New York reaffirms its allegiance to the National Prohibition Party, and trusting in the power of Almighty God and the sovereignty of the American people, declares its adherence to the following measures and principles of government.

"The constitutional principle enunciated by the Supreme Court of the United States that 'no Legislature can bargain away the public health or the public morals, is a condemnation of the license system which perpetuates and protects the sale of alcoholic poison for beverage purposes. We pledge ourselves to the abolition of that system and to legislation which shall recognize what is taught under legal provision in the public schools of this State, namely, that alcohol is an irritant poison and which shall place it on the same basis before the law as other poisons to be sold only for mechanical, medicinal and chemical purposes. Those who by voice or by vote are helping to sustain the legislation of the saloon make themselves jointly responsible with the saloon-keepers for all the evils that flow from the business and in denouncing the saloon are denouncing themselves for their participation in its work.

"2. We accept as the expression of our political ideal the unanimous declaration of the Supreme Court that this is a Christian nation, and we call upon the people of the State to repudiate and consign to oblivion any political party that shall propose to submit a commandment of the decalogue to the local option of corrupt cities.

"3. A Christian citizen's ballot is his testimony and witness of his political righteousness and should be and continue a standing protest against all measures and candidates that are not in full accord and perfect harmony with the highest official utterances of his church in regard to the liquor traffic.

"4. We are unqualifiedly opposed to all religious test of citizenship and to all appropriation of public funds to sectarian institutions.

"5. All men should be protected by law in their right of one day's rest in seven.

"6. Civil and political rights should not be abridged because of sex.

"7. We favor such constitutional changes as will secure proportional representation in the State Legislature.

"8. No class legislation is more odious or perilous than that which gives to certain individuals or corporations the power to control the supply of the currency and to dictate the terms on which it shall be issued. All money should be issued directly by the national government only, and provision should be made by law therefor. As a step in the right direction, we favor what is known as the Windom plan for the issue of treasury notes exchangeable for gold or silver bullion at their market value. The government should establish postal savings banks so that small deposits can be made without risk to depositors.

"9. We favor the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

"10. We are opposed to trusts and other combinations to raise prices on articles of necessity. The railroad, telegraph, telephone and other institutions and industries of public necessity wherever they become monopolies to the exclusion of competition should be controlled by the State, and such control should extend, if need be, to a government ownership in order to protect the interests of the people."

People's.

The People's party State Convention was held at Syracuse, August 29, 1895. The following ticket was nominated: Secretary of State, Thaddeus B. Wakeman, New York city; Comptroller, David Rousseau, New York city; Treasurer, R. L. Case, Victor; Attorney-General, Lawrence J. McParlan, Lockport; State Engineer and Surveyor, R. A. Borden, Glens Falls; Judge of the Court of Appeals, Charles Ward, Livonia Station.

The platform contained the following declarations: The political emancipation of the people by direct legislation, such legislation to be made effective by legally authorized town or election district meetings of all the people for consultation, political action and voting, instead of the present party hall and primaries.

That the right of the people to meet for every lawful purpose shall not be subject to license by the police or any other authority.

The abolition of national and other banks of issue, and that all money shall be issued by the national government only, and be made legal tender for all payments.

The nationalization of natural and other monopolies.

Government ownership and operation of railroads, trolley systems, telegraph, telephone and canals, Federal, State or municipal, and the coal mines owned by or related to such roads.

A single tax.

The abolition of federal injunctions in contempt proceedings in the case of strikes.

Home rule for municipal and local governments.

State dispensary system for the sale of liquor.

Abolition of all court fees.

The suppression of Pinkerton's detective system, mob laws, Gerry societies or agents for the suppression of vice or crime under the support or employment of individuals or societies.

The abolition of capital punishment.

All elections by direct vote of the people.

Universal suffrage, civil service provisions and the right of the people by direct legislation to pass upon the foregoing or similar measures.

Socialist-Labor.

The Socialist-Labor party's State Convention was held at Syracuse, July 6, 1895. Moore; Engineer and Surveyor, Morris Berman; Associate Judge of the Court of Appeals, Henry P. Gray.

As to the maturity of bills and notes the following days are, by implication, holidays: Thanksgiving Day, Good Friday, Christmas, January 1 and July 4; as to schools, Christmas, January 1, July 4, and Thanksgiving Day.

In New Mexico there are no legal holidays established by statute.

Sundays and Fast Days (whenever appointed) are legal holidays in nearly all the States.

Every Saturday after 12 o'clock noon is a legal holiday in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Maryland, and the cities of New Orleans and Wilmington, Del., and June 1 to September 30 in New Castle county, Del., and Denver, Col.

There is no national holiday, not even the Fourth of July. Congress has at various times appointed special holidays. In the second session of the Fifty-third Congress it passed an act making Labor Day a public holiday in the District of Columbia, and it has recognized the existence of certain days as holidays for commercial purposes in such legislation as the Bankruptcy act, but with the exception named, there is no general statute on the subject. The proclamation of the President designating a day of Thanksgiving, only makes it a holiday in those States which provide by law for it.

Difference in Time.

The difference in time between New York and some of the principal commercial cities of the world, is as follows (the letter F means fast of New York time, and the letter S slow of it):

Mason and Dixon's Line.

A name given to the southern boundary line of the Free State of Pennsylvania, which formerly separated it from the Slave States of Maryland and Virginia. It was run—with the exception of about twenty-two miles—by Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon, two English mathematicians and surveyors, between November 15, 1763, and December 26, 1767. During the excited debate in Congress, in 1820, on the question of excluding slavery from Missouri, the eccentric John Randolph, of Roanoke, made great use of this phrase, which was caught up and echoed by every newspaper in the land, and thus gained a celebrity which it still retains.

COST OF WAR AND EDUCATION

There is no better proof, says the Journal of Education, of the essential barbarism of even the most civilized nations of the world than is afforded by a comparison of the money they expend for the maintenance of physical supremacy as against the expenditure for mental improvement. Though it be assumed that brain is better than brawn, there is no evidence that statesmen so regard it. In some tables recently compiled, the amount per capita expended by various governments for military and educational purposes is set down as follows:

	Military.	Educa'n.
France.....	$4 00	$0 70
England.....	3 72	62

THE PUBLIC LANDS.

The public lands of the United States still unsold and open to settlement are divided into two classes, one class being sold by the Government for $1.25 per acre as the minimum price, the other at $2.50 per acre, being the alternate sections reserved by the United States in land grants to railroads, etc. Such tracts are sold upon application to the Land Register. Heads of families or citizens over 21 years, may enter one quarter section (or 160 acres) of unappropriated public lands, to be located in a body in conformity to the legal subdivision of the public lands, but no person who is the proprietor of more than 160 acres in any State or Territory can acquire any right under the homestead law. Under the homestead laws, any citizen or intending citizen, has the right to 160 acres of the $1.25 land, or 80 acres of the $2.50 land, after an actual settlement and cultivation of the same for five years. And persons owning and residing on land may enter other contiguous land, provided the entire area does not exceed 160 acres.

The fees and commissions in the case of homestead entries vary from $7 to $34. The timber culture act and its supplements were repealed by the act of March 3, 1891, but timber may be cut by a resident for agricultural, mining, manufacturing or industrial purposes.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

From President Monroe's Message to Congress, in December, 1823.

We owe, therefore, it to candor and to the amicable relations existing between the United States and the allied powers to declare that we should consider any attempt on their part to extend their system to any portion of this hemisphere as dangerous to our peace and safety. With the existing colonies or dependencies of any European power we have not interfered and shall not interfere, but with the governments who have declared their independence and maintained it, and whose independence we have, on great consideration and just principles, acknowledged, we could not view an interposition for the purpose of oppressing them or controlling in any other manner their destiny (by any European power) in any other light than as a manifestation of an unfriendly disposition towards the United States.

JAMES MONROE.

ELECTRICITY.

The science of electricity owes its name to an observation attributed by Diogenes Laertius to Thales, who flourished as the Franklin of the period about 500 B. C. The observation in question was, that when amber was rubbed, it acquired the power of attracting light bodies, and from the Greek name of amber comes our electricity.

THE WASHINGTON MONUMENT.

The corner stone of the Washington monument, the highest in the United States, and until 1889 the highest in the world, was laid July 4, 1848. Robert E. Winthrop, then Speaker of the House, delivered the oration. After the work had steadily progressed for six years, the funds of the monumental society became exhausted, and from 1854 until 1879 practically nothing was done on the building. At that time the monument was about 175 feet high. In 1879 Congress voted an appropriation of $20,000 to complete the work. From that time the work was pushed steadily forward until December 6, 1884, when the aluminum apex was 555 feet 5½ inches from the foundation, and the work was declared finished. The foundation is 146½ feet square; total weight of stone used in the work, 81,120 tons.

FORMULA FOR TELLING A GIRL'S AGE.

Girls of a marriageable age do not like to tell how old they are; but you can find out by following the subjoined instructions, the young lady doing the figuring: Tell her to put down the number of the month in which she was born, then to multiply it by 2, then to add 5, then to multiply it by 50, then to add her age, then to subtract 565, then to add 115, then tell her to tell you the amount she has left. The two figures to the right will tell you her age, and the remainder the month of her birth. For example, the amount is 822; she is 22 years old and was born in the eighth month (August). Try it.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES.

THE EXECUTIVE.

LEVI PARSONS MORTON, the Governor of New York, and the candidate of the Republicans of the Empire State for the presidency, is one of the most popular public men in the United States. He is one of the best types of the American living to-day, and he has a distinguished record as a public official and private citizen. Governor Morton was born in Shoreham, Vt., which overlooks the beautiful waters of Lake Champlain, and is nearly opposite Fort Ticonderoga. His father was the Rev. Daniel Olion Morton, a Congregational minister, whose family settled in Middleborough, Mass., in 1823. His wife, the mother of Levi P. Morton, was Lucretia Parsons. Her father and grandfather were both ministers. Governor Morton, was one of a family of six, two boys and four girls. The older of the sons was sent to college, but the younger was obliged to get his education from the hard tuition of actual business life. When the lad was about eight years of age the family removed to Springfield, Vt., and four or five years later to Winchendon, Mass., which is on the borders of New Hampshire. It was there that he earned his first wage, the services rendered being the ringing of the bell that swung in the tower of the church in which his father preached. At 14 or 15 he began life for himself in earnest by engaging as "chore boy" in the country store of Ezra Casey, at Enfield, Mass. There he remained two years. Then he essayed the teaching of a country school. When he was 17 he entered the somewhat pretentious store of W. W. Esterbrook, at Concord, N. H. So well did he acquit himself in the eyes of his employer, that in 1842, when the boy was but 18 years old, he was put in charge of a branch store at Hanover, the seat of Dartmouth college. When he was 20 he was given an interest in the store.

It was not long before Levi P. Morton became the leading merchant of the village, despite his youth. His courtesy and his fairness were, even then, such as to attract general attention, and all, villagers, farmers, students and the faculty of the college, soon grew to regard him with exceptional favor. For six years Mr. Morton remained in Hanover, each year increasing the business of his store, each year adding to his fund of experience and knowledge of human nature and the laws of trade. Early in his stay there his first partner and backer, Esterbrook, through no fault of the young man, was forced to suspend, but the establishment continued, for J. M. Beebe of New York, the chief creditor, who went to Hanover, was so well pleased with Morton that he extended the support that seemed likely at the time of Esterbrook's failure to be cut off. In 1849 Mr. Morton went to Boston, where, as a partner of Mr. Beebe, he carried on the dry goods business under the style of Beebe, Morton & Co. In 1854 he removed to New York and founded the dry goods house of Morton, Grinnell & Co. At the beginning of the war this house became financially involved, and was obliged to compound with its creditors on the basis of 50 cents on the dollar.

Mr. Morton felt the reverses keenly; it was not in him to be discouraged, and he set about the work of rehabilitating himself in the business world in a way that will be spoken of presently, and soon succeeded in gaining even a higher place than he had before occupied. Four years after the failure he gave a dinner to a number of his personal and business friends. When they had gathered about the board, one, more observant than the rest, noted the fact that all had been creditors when the old dry goods firm went under. Before he could communicate his discovery to his neighbor the plates were turned. Under each cover had been placed a check signed by Mr. Morton, whose name was now considered good enough to be called "gilt edged," and each check represented the indebtedness of the defunct firm to the guest who received it. It was before the close of 1861, the year of the failure of his dry goods firm, that Mr. Morton became a banker, the new firm assuming the title of L. P. Morton & Co. One member of the firm was Charles W. McCune, who afterwards became proprietor of the Buffalo "Courier." Mr. McCune withdrew in 1868. The firm continued without him, however, and in 1868 Mr. George Bliss became a member, the name being changed to Morton, Bliss & Co. The same year a joint banking house was formed in London, that of Morton, Rose & Co., the leading partner there being Sir John Rose, late finance minister of Canada. The services performed by these two houses in assisting the United States government to resume specie payments and to fund the national debt were incalculable. The banking house of Morton, Bliss & Co. has ever held a conspicuous place in the world of finance and its achievements have been official and notable. During Mr. Morton's official life he has served two terms in Congress, filled for a number of years the important post of United States minister to France and later the still higher position of Vice-President of the republic. His has been a career of achievements quite as solid in their way as were the business achievements of his earlier life. Nor have they been lacking in brilliancy. His term as diplomatic representative at the capital of the French republic was as pronouncedly marked in this regard as had been the diplomatic career of any other United States minister, and it exceeded most. Mr. Morton has done a vast amount of good in a quiet unostentatious way. His sweetness of disposition has always shown itself in the matter of charity. Aside from his private donations, which are understood to have been many, he paid for one-quarter of the cargo taken by the Constellation to Ireland during the famine in that country in 1880. He would have paid for the entire cargo had not other philanthropists assumed some of the burden. When the Rockaway Beach Improvement company failed in 1885 Mr. Morton contributed $50,000 for the relief of the 500 workmen who had been impoverished by the failure, and Drexel, Morgan & Co. contributed a like sum. Mr. Morton was nominated for Governor of the State of New York by the Republicans, in September, 1894, and he was elected by a plurality of 156,108 over David B. Hill, Democrat. He received the degree of LL. D., from Dartmouth College, in 1881. He was one of the founders of the Free Library Society of New York. At his rural home, Ellerslie, Rhinecliff-on-the-Hudson, Mr. Morton has one of the best stock farms in the country, and his cattle have taken many prizes at fairs in New York and in other States.

Such is the man, whom the Republicans of New York will present to the St. Louis convention, believing that he is the most available man for the high office of President of the United States. Certainly no nobler, grander American could be made the Republican standard bearer in the great political contest of November, 1896.

CHARLES T. SAXTON, Rep., of Clyde, Wayne county, Lieutenant-Governor, was born in Clyde, July 2, 1846. He was educated in the High School; and he enlisted in the 90th N. Y. Vols., November, 19, 1861, and served until February, 1866. He was engaged in the Port Hudson and Red River campaigns in Louisiana, and in the Shenandoah Valley campaign in Virginia in 1864, and was less than twenty years of age when discharged, with the rank of Sergeant-Major. He is a lawyer, having been admitted to the bar in 1867; was Justice of the Peace, 1873-77; Clerk of Clyde village, 1873-74; Trustee, 1876-77, and President of the village in 1876. He has been a delegate to several Republican National and State Conventions. He was chosen Honorary Chancellor of Union College, 1891, and received the degree of LL. D. from that college. He was a member of Assembly in 1887, and Chairman of Grievances. He was elected to the Assembly of 1888, serving as Chairman of Judiciary. During the session of 1888 he was identified with the Electoral Reform Bill, which passed both houses, but was vetoed by Governor Hill; had charge of the bill to provide for the infliction of the death penalty by electricity, which became a law; and of the Anti-Bribery Bill, which passed both houses, but was vetoed. He was elected to the Assembly of 1889, and was Chairman of Judiciary. He introduced the Ballot Reform Bill, that passed both houses and was vetoed. In the Assembly of 1887, he made an argument in opposition to constitutional objections to the Crosby High License Bill. He was a member of the committee of five to investigate telephone charges. He was elected to the Senates of 1890-91, 1892-93, and 1894-95. In the Senate he also introduced the Ballot Reform Bills, which, much modified, finally became laws. In November, 1894, he resigned his seat in the Senate, having been chosen Lieutenant-Governor by a plurality of 127,453 over Lockwood, Dem. While in the Senate, he was at various times Chairman of the committees on Banks Poor Laws, and Rules—the latter by virtue of being President pro tem, of the Senate of 1894-95. In January, 1892, he led the minority of Republicans against the rulings of Lieutenant-Governor Sheehan, and established the precedent that any Senator may call the roll if the Clerk of the Senate is unable to call it. Lieutenant-Governor Saxton has made a model presiding officer of the Senate.

ASHLEY W. COLE, Private Secretary to the Governor, was born in the Forest of Bere, Hampshire, England, November 22, 1841. His parents brought him to the United States in 1849 and educated him in the public schools of New York, where he became an expert shorthand writer. He enlisted in the 10th N. J. Vols. in 1862, and served throughout the war. He then secured employment on The New York Herald; and was connected with the same till 1874, acting in the meanwhile as city editor, when he joined the staff of The New York Times. His articles in The Times against the street cleaning department, led to the indictment of Commissioners Charlick and Gardner. Mr. Cole then became financial editor; and in 1875, Albany correspondent of The Times. In 1884 he returned to The Herald. While in its employ he traveled for 16 months in South America, writing political letters, including a noteworthy interview with Dom Pedro. In 1887 Mr. Cole organized the staff of The New York Press. At the time of his appointment as private secretary he was manager of the New York News Bureau. On Jan. 8, 1895, Mr. Cole was appointed to the position of Assistant Chief of Artillery on the staff of the Governor, an office that, like the Chief of Artillery, has no salary attached except in case of actual service. Private Secretary Cole is one of the most popular men that have acted in that capacity in the executive chamber.

THE ELECTIVE STATE OFFICERS.

JOHN PALMER, Rep., of Albany, Secretary of State, was born in Stapleton, Staten Island, of English parents, March 22, 1842. He was educated in a private school in Hull, and in Bryant and Stratton's Business College. At the age of 19 he enlisted in the 91st N. Y. Vols., and was mustered out at the close of the war, with the rank of captain. He was first in the Department of the Gulf, and he displayed much bravery in the attack on Port Hudson and in the Red River campaign. Then he was in the Army of the Potomac. At the battle of Five Forks, he received serious injuries. He was one of the originators of the Soldiers' Home at Bath. For many years he was conspicuous as a promotor of legislation in behalf of ex-soldiers before the Legislature and before Congress. In 1884-85, he was Department Commander of the G. A. R., and he was elected Commander-in-Chief of the National organization in 1891; and his service in that office was noteworthy. He was elected in 1893 by a plurality of 24,484 over Meyer, Dem., and re-elected in November, 1895, by a plurality of 90,145 over King, Dem. Captain Palmer is a most companionable gentleman. He is a good public speaker and an uncompromising friend of the veteran soldier.

JAMES A. ROBERTS, Rep., of Buffalo, Comptroller, was born in Waterboro, York county, Me., March 8, 1847. In 1864, he enlisted in the 7th Me. battery, and served in the 9th Army corps before Petersburg, and against Lee until his surrender. He graduated from Edward Little Institute, Auburn, Maine, 1866, and from Bowdoin College, 1870. Removing to Buffalo in 1871, he studied law; was admitted to the bar in 1875. He was a member of Assembly from Erie county in 1879-80, but declined a nomination for a third term. He is a member of the Buffalo Board of Park Commissioners; Vice-President of the Buffalo Loan, Trust and Safe Deposit Company, and one of the originators of the town site of Depew, an industrial suburb of Buffalo. He is the senior member of the law firm of Roberts, Becker, Wesser & Orcutt, in Buffalo. He was an officer in several corporations in Buffalo until he resigned on being elected Comptroller in 1893 by a plurality of 19,924 over Campbell, Dem. He was re-elected in November, 1895, by a plurality of 94,293 over Judson, Dem. Mr. Roberts has made a good record as Comptroller.

ADDISON B. COLVIN, Rep., of Glens Falls, State Treasurer, was born in Glens Falls, December 15, 1858. His mother died when he was an infant and his father when he was 5 years of age. He attended school a few terms at the Academy, and then obtained employment in a mercantile establishment. While thus engaged he purchased a small printing press and outfit, and from this simple beginning he has developed a large printing and publishing business. At the age of 18 he established the Glens Falls "Daily Times," subsequently purchasing the Glens Falls "Weekly Messenger," and he is still the owner, editor and publisher of both papers. He is president of the Glens Falls Gas Company, a director of the American Casualty Company, and of the Co-operative Building Bank of New York, and trustee of the Crandall Free Library. He was one of the organizers of the People's National Bank, Sandy Hill; the United Press Association; the Commercial Union Telegraph Company, and its first Vice-President. He was elected in 1893, by a plurality of 24,772 over Duffey, Dem., and was re-elected in November, 1895, by a plurality of 92,293 over Dow, Dem. Mr. Colvin is a popular State official, and has made a capable State Treasurer.

THEODORE E. HANCOCK, Rep., of Syracuse, Attorney-General, was born in Granby, Oswego county, May 30, 1847. His parents had removed to Granby from Martha's Vineyard. He was educated in the common schools, in the Falley Seminary, and he was graduated from Wesleyan University and the Columbia Law School. While a law student in New York he was in the office of Edward T. Bartlett, now a Judge of the Court of Appeals. He was also with the law firm of Bangs & North, of New York. Removing to Syracuse, he became member of the local bar, and was twice elected District-Attorney. He is the senior member of the law firm of Hancock, Beach, Peck & Devine in Syracuse, and a member of the L. O. O. F. and of the K. of P. He was elected in 1893 by a plurality of 21,290 over Rosendale, Dem., and was re-elected in November last by a plurality of 94,728 over Chase, Dem. Mr. Hancock has conducted the affairs of his office very satisfactorily.

CAMPBELL W. ADAMS, Rep., of Utica, State Engineer and Surveyor, was born in Utica, January

1, 1852. He was educated in that city and studied civil engineering with a private tutor. He was appointed assistant to the City Surveyor in 1872, and, beside the work of that office, he has been extensively engaged in the work of several railroad companies, notably the D. and H. Canal Company, the R. W. and O., and the Adirondack and St. Lawrence. He held the office of City Surveyor for several terms, during which he was engaged in many of the most important improvements in Utica. He was elected in 1893 by a plurality of 24,486 over Schenck, Dem., and was re-elected in November, 1895, by a plurality of 86,211 over Stewart, Dem. Mr. Adams has made an efficient State officer.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Senators.

FIRST DIST. RICHARD HIGBIE, Rep., was born at West Islip, near Babylon, in 1857. His early education was received in the public schools at Babylon and his early life was spent at West Islip. He began life as a clerk in an importing house in New York city and in 1883 established the firm of Higbie & Robbins, general merchants in Babylon. TOURISTS

AND PLEASURE SEEKERS

WILL FIND THE

ROME, WATERTOWN & OGDENSBURG R. R.

TO BE PRE-EMINENTLY

THE ROUTE FOR TOURIST TRAVEL,

And it was constructed with that end in view.

It is the great highway and favorite route for fashionable pleasure travel. It reaches, direct and by its own lines, all of the Summer Pleasure Resorts in Northern New York, the Western and Northwestern Adirondacks and along the St. Lawrence River, and by its direct and immediate connections furnishes the shortest and most desirable route to the Lower St. Lawrence, the Saguenay, the White Mountains, the Sea-shore resorts of New England and the Maritime Provinces.

On March 14th, 1891, the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg R. R., was leased in perpetuity to the New York Central & Hudson River R. R., "The World's Greatest and only Four-Track Railroad." The lessee company, appreciating the value of its new acquisition, and its capability of becoming the largest and most important summer resort and tourist traffic route in America, proceeded at once, with its usual enterprise, to raise to trunk line standard that portion of the newly acquired property patronized by the summer travel. This has been accomplished by hard work and the outlay of a large sum of money—more than one million dollars—in permanent improvements and betterments, notably the relaying of the railway with the heaviest steel rails used north of the Trunk Lines, renewing and re-ballasting its road-bed, placing new ties and increasing the number of same per mile, replacing bridges with stronger new ones of steel and iron, and making various other improvements on the R., W. & O. System, all of which enables the company to inaugurate a new era in Northern New York passenger train service. The improvement in equipment and service has kept pace with that of the road-bed and railway. Standard locomotives, capable of hauling the heaviest passenger trains at high speed, have been added to the motive power. The perfection and comfort of the new passenger equipment elicits the admiration of its patrons. New trains, the counterpart in make-up of the famous Limited trains on the New York Central & Hudson River R. R., will, during the Summer Season, run on fast schedule time and without stops from Syracuse and from Utica to Clayton for the Thousand Islands, the St. Lawrence River and Canada pleasure travel, also to Norwood for the Adirondack Mountains, the White Mountains, Maine and New England sea-coast travel.

These summer trains are perfectly appointed, solid vestibuled trains, and carry new Day Coaches, new Wagner Sleeping Cars and Drawing-Room Cars. All cars have Wagner vestibules and are mounted on steel wheels. In carrying out the policy of developing summer travel by offering every facility, the New York Central & Hudson River R. R., places in service during summer, new fast trains between Niagara Falls, Buffalo and Syracuse, and between New York and Utica.

Complete trains run solid, at the speed of the New York Central limited trains, and with the equipment above mentioned.
